

Romans Home School Learning Lesson 6 (Week 7)

Roman Baths

LO. To research information to develop understanding

Look through the PowerPoint in PDF of Roman Baths and answer the questions within it.

Task: Draw your own Roman Bath layout like a map and add detailed labels to the different amenities on offer. Below is an example of a Roman Bath house. Use the resource and your own research to find out about Roman Baths.

The Gymnasium allowed Romans to keep fit. This was important to Romans because...

Legacy of the Romans

Think about the time periods we have already studied- The Egyptians and Stone Age to Iron Age. What did the Romans gain from these people? Have the Romans helped us? What is in our world now that is related to any of the periods that you have studied in Key Stage Two? Can we trust all the information that we get from the Romans about events that happened then?

Discuss these questions to finish the History learning of this topic.

Answers

What have the Egyptians and Iron Age to Stone Age people given us/Romans?

Metal work - Iron, Bronze

Religious beliefs- a way of understanding the world

The wheel

Farming - fields and flood plains

The Egyptians gave us hieroglyphs, papyrus, and the pyramids.

Egyptians gave us a story of unity in government.

The Stone Age to Iron Age gave us flour - rotary quern

How have the Romans helped us?

Fast food- The streets of Pompeii are littered with Fast food outlets

Advertising and trademarks

Plumbing and sanitation - underfloor heating

Towns

Architecture - building we can see today still

Roads

Our calendar

Currency - using coins as money to pay for things

Latin language

Bureaucracy - list making and forms

Can we trust all the information that we get from the Romans about events that happened then?

Romans were great at recording events and writing about them, but they were always written from their viewpoint. Written sources about Boudicca see her as vengeful but did she not have a right to fight against what the Romans had done?

The primary sources of buildings and artefacts do tell the truth of what life was like at that period. The remains of Pompeii and Herculaneum show intimate details of life nearly 2000 years ago.